

Florida Local Government Climate Protection Summit

March 27, 2008; 9:30am - 4:30pm
Tallahassee-Leon County Civic Center
With Evening Reception at The Mary Brogan Museum of Art and Science
Tallahassee, Florida

Are you interested in advancing climate and energy policy within your government operations and throughout your community?

Local government elected officials and staff from throughout the State of Florida are invited to attend a conference of peers to advance local and regional climate and energy programs that simultaneously reduce costs, improve quality of life, and reduce greenhouse gas emissions.

Attendees will have the opportunity to:

- Network with peers, and learn more about what other jurisdictions are doing to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and develop energy policy
- Understand what the State of Florida is doing to address climate and energy issues, and how local governments can be involved
- Learn from ICLEI how to measure greenhouse gas emissions and develop a local climate and energy program
- Participate in the formation of a network of Florida local governments working towards climate protection

Light breakfast and full lunch will be provided. Admission: Free for two representatives from ICLEI Member Jurisdictions; $45 for representatives of State & Non-ICLEI Local Governments. Travel and lodging support is available. For further information and to register: www.floridaclimatesummit.org, or contact Wesley Look at wesley.look@iclei.org; (510) 844-0699 x322.

Following the Event:

On March 28th Leon County will host an event to bolster climate protection efforts throughout the Capital Region.
